

Pathology guide to the Worst Dressed Tubes

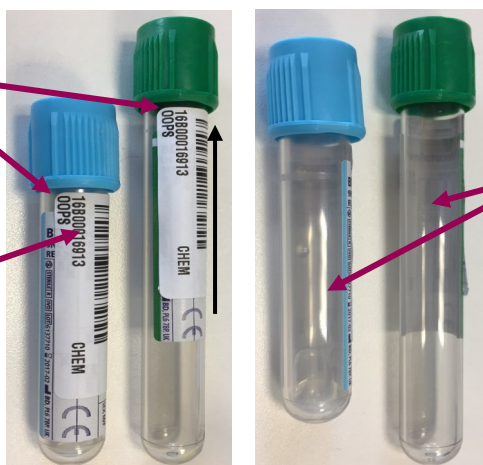

Pathology analysers are very smart, but they do require a certain standard and placement of the barcode label in order to function correctly and efficiently.
You can help us by following the guide below:

Perfect!

Place label directly under cap

Name & number at top

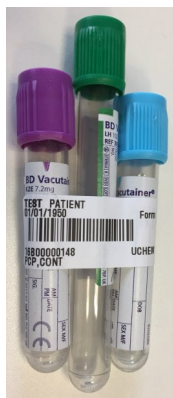

Barcode straight

Leave visible window so we can see blood volume

Get it straight—reduce the wait

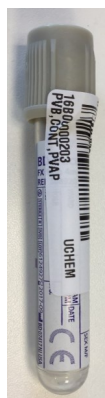

The following fashion statements are not appropriate for work

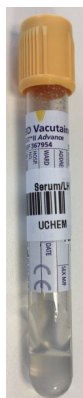

The wrap around

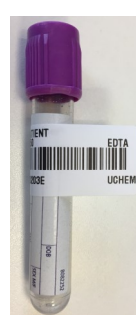

Wrinkled

Cinched Belt

Biggle's Scarf

Topsy Turvy

Off the Shoulder
