

NEONATAL INTENSIVE CARE

Women and Childrens Division

WHO WE ARE

The Neonatal Intensive Care unit at Southmead Hospital is a well-established Level 3 unit providing a centre of excellence for babies requiring medical and neurological assessment and treatment. We have 34 cots, comprising of 8 ITU, 8 HDU and 18 SC, with an additional 10 cots on our Transitional Care Ward. As a Regional referral centre, we take patients from 23 week gestation and sick babies from our network and further afield. Family integrated care is at the forefront of our ethos and we are working towards the BLISS charter and we have just submitted the stage 1 application for UNICEF Baby Friendly Initiative for neonatal units.

We value nurse education at the unit and have an established practice development team to support and guide our nursing staff.

WHAT WE CAN OFFER

- Focus on high quality care- The MBRRACE document identifies the unit as among the best tertiary centres in the country for the outcomes of extremely premature infants
- Professional Development- opportunities available to obtain external qualification in specialty and become a Neonatal Specialist Nurse

WHAT NBT CAN OFFER

- Award winning location- Bristol
- Excellent well-being support available
- Ward based preceptorship programme
- The support to become the best that you can be

WHO IS THIS POST FOR?

- Experienced Nurses with current NMC pin
- Newly Qualifying Registered Nurses
- Return to Practice Nurses
- International Nurses (Tier 2)

WOMEN AND CHILDREN'S DIVISION

The Women and Children's Division provides nursing and midwifery care for our patients in the Women and Children's Quarter at Southmead Hospital, Cossham Hospital and Mendip Birth Centre.

The division offers a well-structured and supported preceptorship programme to help you achieve your career aspirations and realise your full potential.

WANT TO LEARN MORE?

Email nursing@nbt.nhs.uk

Or you could also attend one of our Recruitment Open Days- please check www.nbt.nhs.uk/careers for the full list of dates available.

FOLLOW US ON SOCIAL MEDIA:
#NBTPROUD @NORTHBRISTOLNHSTRUST

